VEGETABLE OIL & BUTTERS

The natural oils are imbued with the great therapeutic benefits that make them such an amazing product to be used in the Pharmaceutical industries for the production and manufacturing of medicines, ointments, lotions, creams and other related products in Cosmetic.

High quality natural essential oils, and spice oils, are widely used as flavouring agents for beverages and Food to give them amazing taste and refreshing aroma as well.

Natural oils are also used massively in the Spa and Relaxation Centres for their therapeutic properties and benefits in the form of aromatherapy sessions.

We supply a major portion of our naturally extracted and pure products to this industry as they are used in the production of Perfumes, deodorants, and aerosols.

OILS ESSENTIAL & OILS from SPICES

Natural Essential Oils are aromatic extracts obtained from both organic and wildy grown flowers, grasses, fruits, leaves, roots, plants, and trees. The pure essential oils are known as volatile and concentrated oils that are extracted from the parent plants or their major parts.

The Spice Oils are used in many ways like the preparation of food and beverages, cosmetics, personal hygiene products like toothpaste, aerosols and mouthwashes, perfumes and major pharmaceutical and medicinal formulations.

VEGETABLE OILS & BUTTERS

Carrier oils, also generally referred to as “Vegetable Oils”, are aptly named as they are the base oils that ‘dilute’ the essential oils meant for the topical application on the skin.

100% pure carrier and base oils do not evaporate easily. However, they have a shorter shelf life in comparison to pure and natural essential oils.

Natural body Butter is a great way to pamper the skin by including them in the skincare regimen either in their natural form or in the form of cosmetic products as today almost every cosmetic product in the beauty industry has these butters as their one of the main ingredients.
