HEMPCRETE

Hempcrete is a revolutionary building material crafted from the inner woody fibres of the hemp plant, known as hemp hurd, mixed with lime-based binders and water. Renowned for its exceptional sustainability and eco-friendliness, hempcrete offers a unique blend of strength, durability, and thermal performance. This renewable composite not only sequesters carbon dioxide from the atmosphere but also provides excellent insulation properties, regulating indoor temperatures while promoting healthy living environments. Embraced by eco-conscious builders and designers worldwide, hempcrete stands as a testament to the remarkable potential of harnessing nature's resources for a greener, more sustainable future.

LIMESTONE FINISH

Our hempcrete vessels feature a distinctive limestone finish. This traditional ancient technique imbues each vessel with a timeless elegance and natural allure similar to that of marble. A fine layer of lime plaster is applied onto the hempcrete surface, creating a seamless and durable coating that is not only water tight but also non toxic & breathable. Through a meticulous process of polishing with a stone, we achieve a natural sheen that elevates the texture and character of each vessel. Once cured, the lime plaster becomes limestone. The result is a stunning fusion of sustainable craftsmanship and refined design, destined to enrich any space with its unparalleled Wabi-Sabi charm.

Move on the VESSEL

Our hempcrete vessels offer a unique blend of beauty and functionality. Crafted with precision and care, these vessels are designed to resemble ceramic while embodying the natural essence of hempcrete. Each vessel boasts a smooth and tactile finish, evoking the timeless charm of handmade ceramics. Infused with the earthy scent of organic matter, these vessels carry a touch of nature into any space.

Despite their delicate appearance, our hempcrete vessels are remarkably sturdy and durable and only improve with time. Made from a blend of hemp hurd, lime binder, hempcrete possesses a unique quality of strengthening with age. As it matures, the bonds within the material continue to develop, resulting in increased durability and resilience. This natural process ensures that your hempcrete vessels not only maintain their beauty but also become stronger over time, making them an investment in both style and sustainability for years to come.

Engineered to be water-tight and non-toxic, they offer both practicality and peace of mind. Whether used as decorative accents or functional pieces, these vessels are built to withstand the test of time, making them a sustainable and stylish addition to any home.
