Medical expertise

Founded in 1993, Shaanxi Wanan Pharmaceutical is a modern pharmaceutical enterprise incorporating expert scientific research, production and sales into one unit. With fixed assets of about $8 million and an annual sales volume of over $6 million, we currently have 300 employees, half of which are medical professionals, including a scientific research group consisting of five medical doctors, 11 masters-degree holders, and an expert group consisting of more than 70 gynecologists.

Unique products

In China, we're the only manufacturer of silver-ion gynecological pads. With a special blend of silver-ions and natural herbal extracts, our pads are made specially to prevent gynecological irritations and inflammations. They also feature fast-acting, non-toxic and anti-bacterial medicinal properties to retain comfort and freshness for women. And they're ideal for using three days before and four days after the menstrual cycle and 1 - 2 pieces each day will completely prevent gynecological diseases. Each pad is individually packaged and sterilized so it can be carried around easily without damage.

Holding a majority share of China's market

How have we made such an innovative product that has captured 60 percent of the market in mainland China? With scientists and doctors possessing an average of 17 years' experience and quality inspectors with up to 14 years' experience. We also align our operations according to ISO 9001:2008 and ISO 13485:2003 guidelines. To learn more, contact us today.
