Ceylon Tea

Ceylon tea is a popular type of black tea that is also known as Sri Lankan tea. Served as an iced tea or warm, it is a favorite beverage for many tea drinkers. While Ceylon is known for its bold flavor, it can vary significantly in taste, depending on the type of tea and where it's grown in the country.

Ceylon teas are categorized by three different altitudes: high grown (above 4,000 feet), medium grown (between 2,000 and 4,000 feet), and low grown (from sea level up to 2,000 feet).

Dimbula

As a region of mountain slopes, the terroir ranges greatly with the elevation. They are full bodied, delicate and mellow in flavor.

Sabaragamuwa

Lower elevation region that produces low-grown black teas with a full flavor, rich hues of orange and reds, with notes of honey, chocolate, and caramel.

Kandy

Medium-level elevation district that produces mid-grown teas, which vary in flavor depending on exposure to monsoon winds. Generally full bodied, malty, and copper hued.

Nuwara Eliya

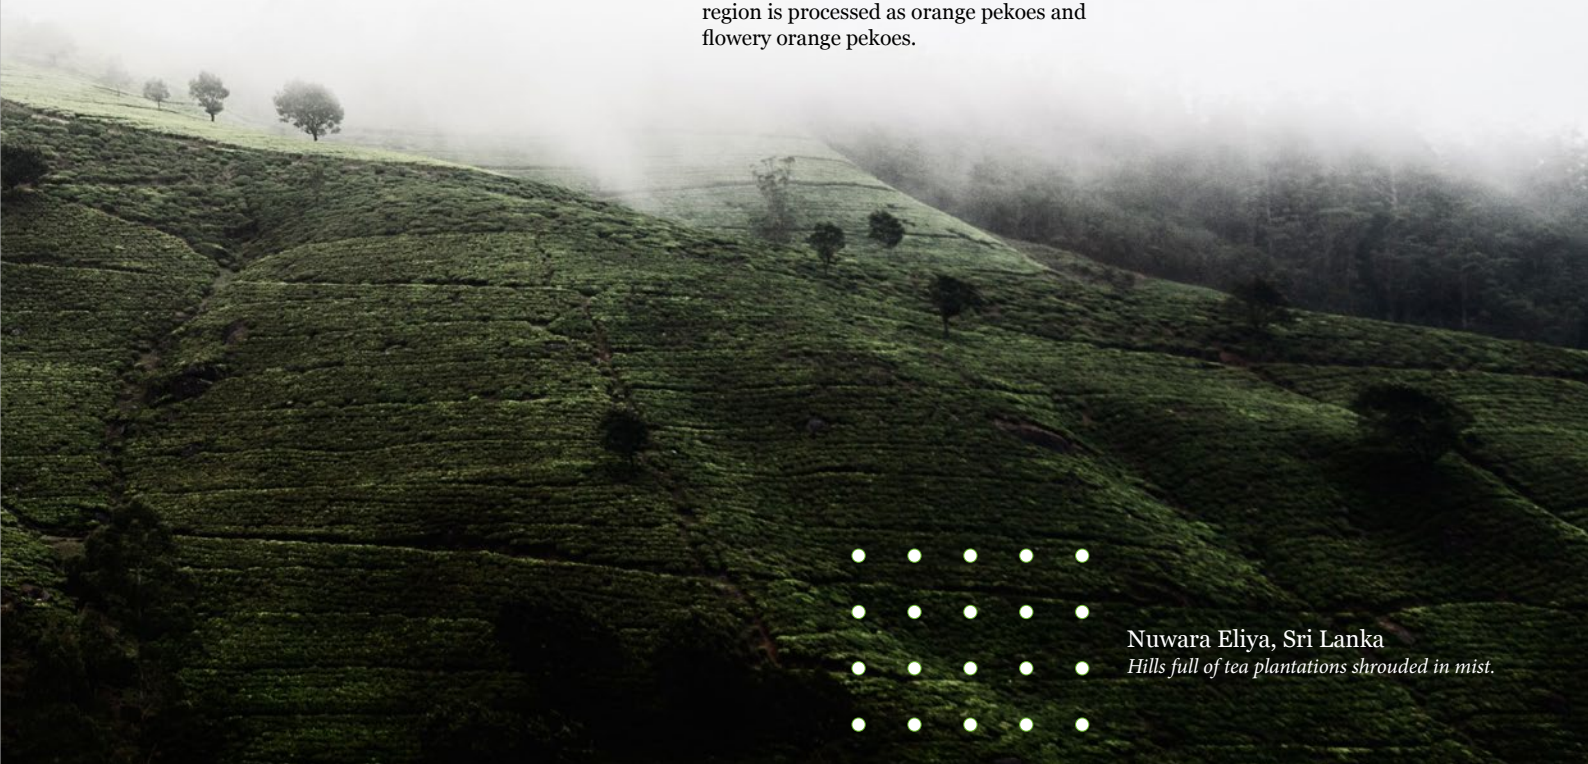

Highest elevation tea-producing area in Sri Lanka. Its terroir produces tea with a delicate, floral fragrance and light, brisk flavor.

Uva

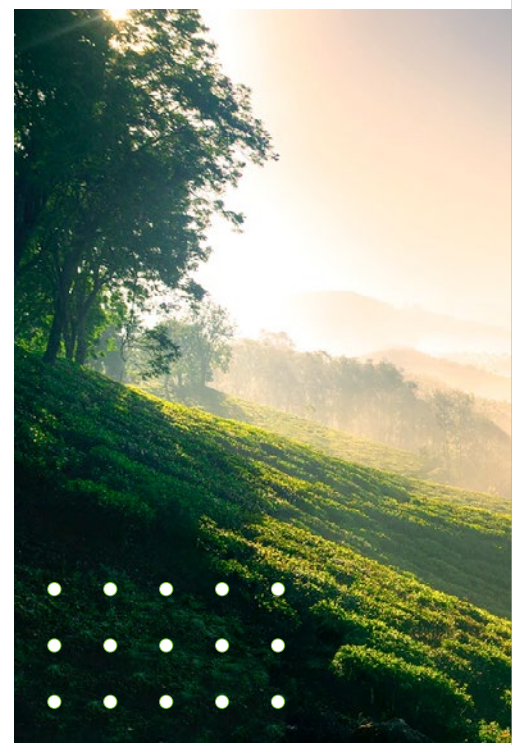

This is a high-grown tea. It produces black tea with a distinctively sweet flavor and exotic, woody aroma that can handle a bit of milk.

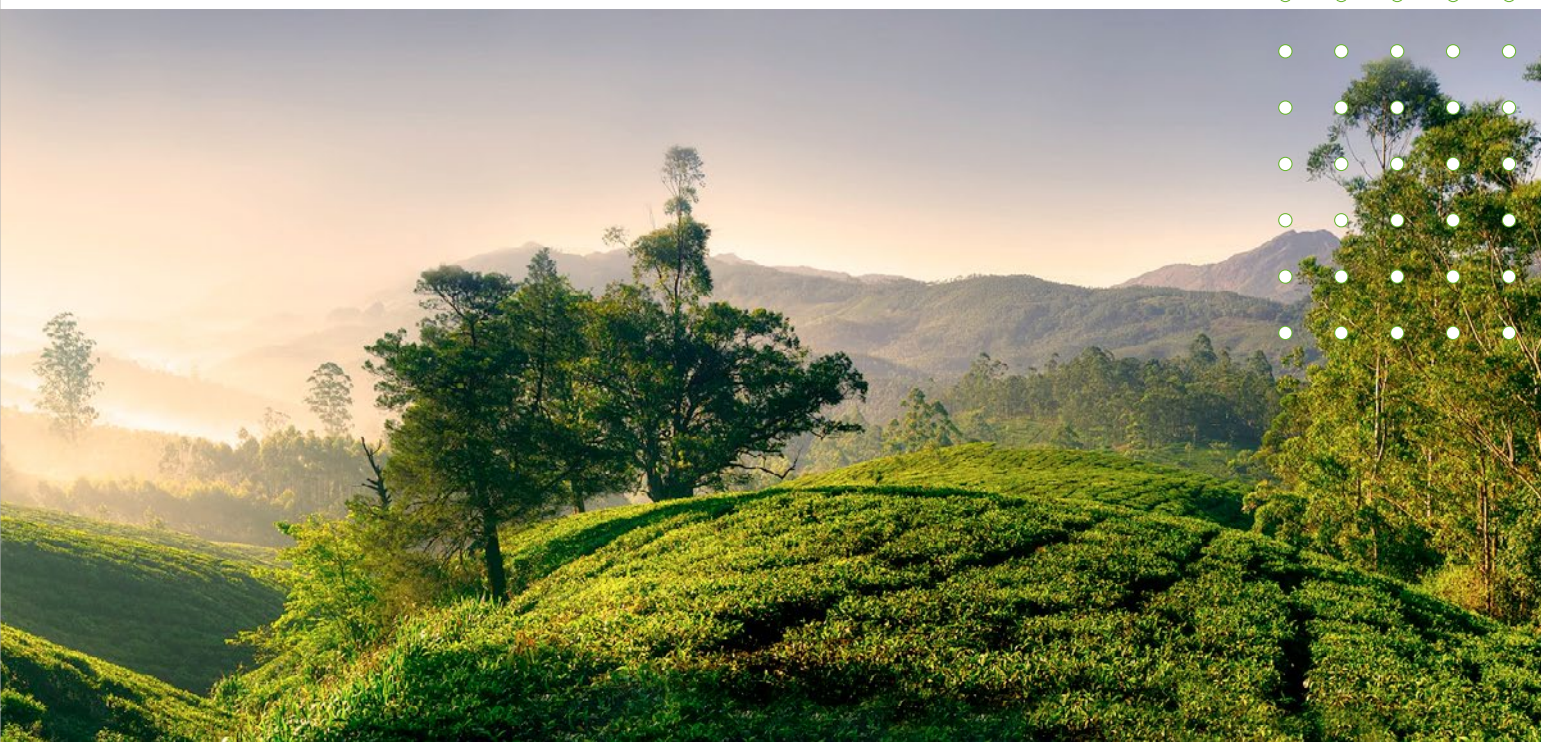

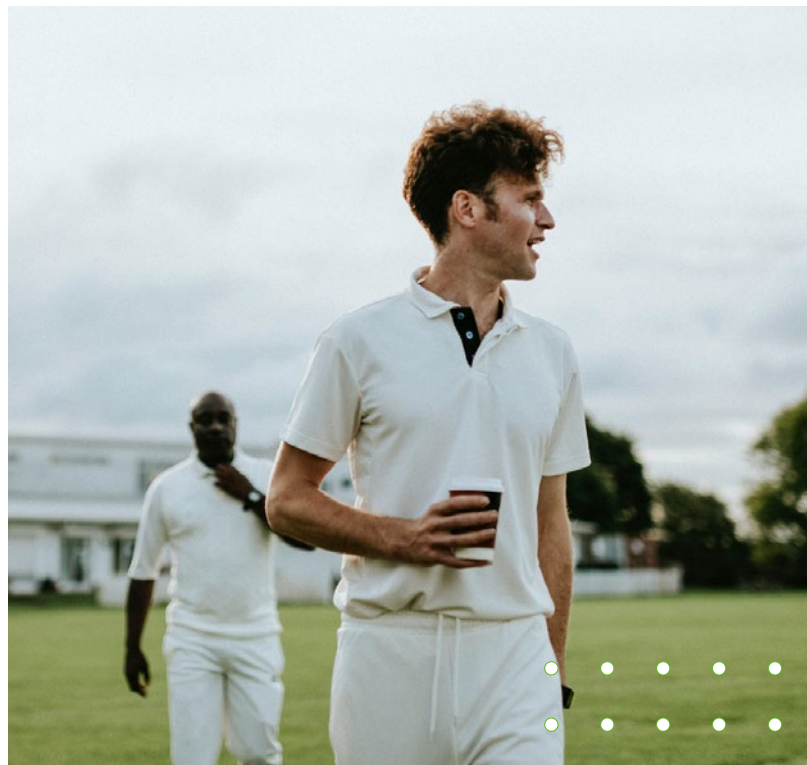

Ruhuna

It produces low-grown black tea with a full flavor. Most of the teas grown in these region is processed as orange pekoes and flowery orange pekoes.

In nothing more is the English genius for domesticity more notably declared than in the institution of this festival – almost one may call it – of afternoon tea...The mere chink of cups and saucers tunes the mind to happy repose.

Ceylon Black Tea

Cultivated in Sri Lanka’s misty highlands, this tea is prized for its bold, full-bodied flavour. Its vibrant taste—shaped by the cool climate and rich, well-drained soils, makes it a favourite enjoyed plain, with milk, or blended into signature infusions. Beyond its flavour, it’s valued for its natural antioxidants, believed to support heart health and overall wellbeing.

English Breakfast

A bold, full-bodied black tea blend with a rich, malty character. Perfectly balanced to awaken the senses, it pairs beautifully with milk, offering a classic, invigorating start to the day.

English Afternoon

A smooth, medium-bodied tea with a gentle, uplifting flavour. Its subtle notes make it ideal for a light afternoon cup, enjoyed plain or with a splash of milk and sugar.

Irish Breakfast

A robust, malty tea with a deep, hearty flavour. Stronger than English blends, it brews a rich cup that stands up well to milk, energising mornings with every sip.

Earl Grey

A fragrant black tea delicately infused with bergamot oil. Its citrusy aroma and smooth, refreshing taste make it a timeless favourite, perfect for any moment that calls for elegance and comfort.

Ceylon Supreme

A premium black tea from Sri Lanka’s finest estates, offering a bright, brisk flavour and golden liquor. Smooth yet lively, it reflects the island’s renowned tea heritage in every cup.

Black Tea Chai

A warming blend of bold black tea and aromatic spices, including cinnamon, cardamom, and cloves. Rich and comforting, it brews a spicy-sweet cup, delicious with milk for authentic chai.

Ceylon Green Tea

Handpicked and gently processed to preserve its natural colour and freshness, this tea delivers a light, grassy aroma with subtle floral notes. Rich in antioxidants, it’s a soothing choice whether sipped hot or served chilled, offering a refreshing taste of Sri Lanka’s serene tea gardens.

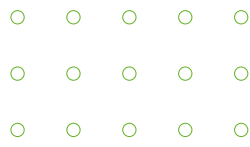

Broken Leaf Green Tea

A brisk, full-flavoured Ceylon green tea made from broken leaves. It brews a vibrant cup with a slightly robust edge, offering a refreshing, lively taste perfect for everyday enjoyment.

Fannings/Dust Green Tea

Finely ground Ceylon green tea for quick brews. Offers bright, grassy flavour and smooth refreshment, perfect for convenient, everyday enjoyment.
